anuary RUMOURS 5 P Dom , ccxliv r The libels presumably were the books summarised under i5th August, 1592

6th January PLAYS OF THE WEEK Hens Diary, | 15 Fleay, and more recently Dr Dover Wilson (in The New Shakespeare), suggest that the Jealous Comedy was the basis of Shakespeare's Merry Wives of Windsor See Appendix I, p 401

%th January THE WAR IN FRANCE A P C, xxiv 14 S P Foreign, xxx f 7 Letter dated 2nd January

izth January NASHE'S * STRANGE NEWS ' A R, 11 624 Thomas Nashe, Strange News of the Intercepting of Certain Letters, 159^[-3] Modern edition by R B M'Kerrow in The Works of Thomas Naske, 1904 This piece of abuse made good gossip two editions are dated 1592, le were printed before 25th March, 1593 , three are dated 1593

i$th January PLAYS OF THE WEEK Hens Diary,i 15, u 156

i8/A January RUMOURS S P Dom, ccxliv 18

zoth January PLAYS OF THE WEEK Hens Diary, i 15, u 157

zist January THE PLAGUE AGAIN INCREASES ^?C,xxiv 21

27*8 January PLAYS OF THE WEEK Hens Diary, i 15, u 157 The Massacre at Pans (called in the Diary ' the tragedy of the gyves *) was printed in an undated quarto with the tide, The Massacre at Pans f with the Death of the Duke of Guise As it was played by the Right Honourable the Lord High Admiral, his servants Wntten by Christopher Marlowe

i&th January EVASION OF SERVICE IN PRIVILEGED PLACES A P €, xxiv 30

SIR HENRY KNIVETT'S SUBMISSION A P C, xxiv 33

PLAYS AND GAMES PROHIBITED BY REASON OF THE PLAGUE A P C, xxiv 31

^nd February PLAYING CEASES Hens Diary, i 16

yd February * GREENE'S NEWS FROM HEAVEN AND HELL * AR₉u 626 B R, Green's Newsfrom Heaven andHeU> 1593 Modern edition by R B M'Kerrow, 1922

jth February LAWLESSNESS ON THE SCOTTISH BORDER SP Dom Addenda, xxxu 66

Ith February AN INVASION EXPECTED A PC, xxiv 53

i ith February CONTRIBUTIONS EVADED A P C, xxiv 44

xatf February RUMOURS • THE GREAT CARRACK S P Dom , ccxliv

35 The signed award of the Commissioners
(Lansdaune MSS, 73, f 40)
gives the Mowing figures The Earl of Cumberland, £18,000, Sir Walter Ralegh, £15,900, Sir John Hawkins, £2,400 , the City of London, £12,000 m goods